

NEXT WEEK'S COMPLETE NOVEL
IN THE EVENING WORLD

AT THE EARTH'S CORE

A Wonder Story of Another World, By EDGAR RICE BURROUGHS, Author of "Tarzan of the Apes" Etc.

WILL BEGIN MONDAY

Two believe, in rooms once occupied as a postroom by "Jimmy" Purcell, now in the death house at Sing Sing, above the saloon owned by David McNiff at No. 546 Third avenue. Purcell, who was a gambler, was more than a year ago shot and killed his twelve-year-old daughter, Agnes, in an attempt to kill his wife in their apartment at No. 214 West Twenty-ninth street. He recently was sentenced to die in the electric chair. Tomorrow McNiff was served with a summons to appear in Yorkville court on a charge of maintaining a public nuisance. The police said the summons had been served because of the men who hung about the old postroom.

Picking together parts of Kelly's confession, Inspector Faurot's men are looking for two other men who are thought to have had a part in the robbery. The blackjacking was done by two men, Kelly drove the car and a fourth man is said to have been left behind by the gang to keep a tab on the police or other pursuers.

After the robbery, Kelly says, he drove the men back to the old postroom, where the money was divided. He was given only $15. He complained he wasn't being treated "right." Others in the gang roughly told him he was fortunate to be counted in on the division at all.

The original plan, the police learned, was to have the robbery a week ago, but a postponement was decided on because of Decoration Day. The men had been hanging about for weeks, it is said, at the doors of banks, waiting for a chance to make a dash for it. It finally was decided the American Cigar Company cash would be the easiest to get.

Kelly drove the automobile slowly along the curb in Fourteenth street near Eighth avenue while two men followed the car company clerks as they left the bank with the money. When they were blackjacked and the money bag seized it was the work of an instant for the robbers to run to the street, leap into the machine and Kelly was away.

THIRD ROBBERY BY AUTO GANG MADE PUBLIC.

It did not become known until an early hour this morning that another robbery in which an automobile figured had occurred yesterday. Five men robbed Malcolm Moorey, cashier of the firm of McKean, Voorhees & O'Neill, architects in the Townsend Building at No. 1121 Broadway, of $200 while he was going to the firm's office in the elevator.

The robbers missed $1,000 more. Mr. Moorey had in his pocket. They forced him in the elevator and made their getaway before he noticed that the money was gone.

The robbers in this case escaped in a black automobile which stood at the curb in front of the building. Mr. Moorey thinks he was followed from the Second National Bank, where he drew the money, into the elevator.

VILLA SUBMITS TO CARRANZA AS BEST FOR MEXICO

Accepts Secondary Place in Fighting Force Rather Than Endanger the Cause.

MEETS CHIEF TO-DAY.

After Talk at Torreon Carranza Will Go to Set Up Government at Saltillo.

TORREON, Mex., June 6.—The power and authority of Gen. Venustiano Carranza, who is about to declare himself Provisional President of Mexico, has been increased by Gen. "Pancho" Villa's humbly accepting a place as the mere commander of one of the four military divisions into which Carranza has divided that part of Mexico already conquered by the rebels.

Villa, who has been the supreme military commander of the rebels, was to have met Carranza here yesterday, but instead remained at Chihuahua and had a long communication with the Supreme Chief by telegraph, as a result of which he acknowledged Carranza's authority and said:

"I am ready to make any sacrifice for my country, provided always that making such sacrifices will aid the greater cause for which I have been fighting."

With the air thus clarified, arrangements were made for a meeting between Carranza and Villa in this city to-day.

Gen. Carranza is continuing arrangements for setting up his provisional capital in Saltillo. Gen. Gomez, commanding the Saltillo garrison, telegraphed that he had seen to the preparation of residences for Carranza and those who will constitute his Provisional Cabinet.

NO "LAW" BEHIND
EMBARGO ON ARMS.

WASHINGTON, June 6.—The Washington Government has about concluded that Gen. Carranza will decide to enter the A. B. C. mediation conference at Niagara Falls, Ont., under the conditions named by the mediators.

Administration officers are not alone concerned about Carranza's attitude. They are troubled over the situation with reference to the shipment of arms to the revolutionists.

Information that the American schooner Sunbeam from Galveston had landed ammunition at Tampico for the Mexican Constitutionalists without interference on the part of the United States or the Huerta government here without comment.

Despite the orders which were issued several days ago to stop shipments from the United States, Administration officials are confronted with the fact that they are being armed in an arbitrary manner when they stop these shipments.

It has been found by the legal experts of the Administration that the Federal courts have held that vessels cannot be denied clearance papers. Secretary Garrison admitted to-day he directed the stoppage of shipments across the border because he had the army on the border to carry out his orders and that there is no law under which he is proceeding.

STEVENSON VERY WEAK.

Former Vice-President Near Death in Chicago Hospital.

CHICAGO, June 6.—Adlai E. Stevenson, Vice-President of the United States, is in a critical condition at the Presbyterian Hospital, where he has been since he was taken to Bellevue Hospital. Her husband was found to be quite stuffed with money.

At the hospital the girl said she had a brother, Walter, living at Hilldale, N. Y. The collie was lodged in the hospital stable.

The brother was reached by telephone to-day. He lives on a farm near Hilldale and will come to New York after his sister.

The girl, he said, has been living with an aunt at Great Barrington, Mass. A relative died recently and left her a little more than the sum of money found in her possession last night. She is irresponsible at times and was closely watched. Mr. Bushnell said he could not understand how she eluded her aunt.

A REMINDER OF THAW.

Judge Benjamin H. Cardozo of the Court of Appeals listened for more than two hours to-day to the arguments of attorneys for John N. Anhalt, the lawyer who was sentenced to serve from two to four years in Sing Sing for offering a bribe to release Harry K. Thaw, who was making an effort to obtain the lawyer's release pending on his appeal. Anhalt has been in the Tombs since his conviction.

The Appellate Division of the Supreme Court recently affirmed the conviction of Anhalt, and he gave notice of his intention to ask for the certificate of reasonable doubt on which the argument was made to-day.

Judge Cardozo announced that he would render his decision some time next week in Albany.

FRANK VERDICT UPHELD.

Judge Refuses to Set Aside Conviction of Murder.

ATLANTA, June 6.—Judge Ben H. Hill of the Fulton County Superior Court to-day sustained the State's demurrer to the motion to set aside the verdict by which Leo M. Frank was found guilty of the murder of Mary Phagan, a factory girl.

The motion was based on the claim that Frank's constitutional rights were violated when the verdict was returned during the condemned man's absence from court.

Seventh Regiment Starting on Trip to West Point

WANDERED WITH
DOG AND $1,417

Young Woman Sent to Bellevue, and Brother Comes to City to Take Her Home.

A well dressed young woman, who had a handsome collie on leash and who carried $1,417 in currency, is held in the psychopathic ward of Bellevue to-day, while the police are trying to find out about her. Her peculiar actions in the waiting room of Grand Central Terminal attracted the attention of Miss Helen Michaelson, an agent of the Travelers' Aid Society, last night.

When questioned by Miss Michaelson, the young woman at first gave incoherent answers, but finally said she was Miss Ellen Bushnell of Great Barrington, Mass. By her side trotted the collie dog, which attacked almost as much attention as his mistress.

When asked where she was going the girl said she did not know, but thought she might visit some of the big ships and get a position as captain. After she had told many odd stories she was persuaded to accompany Miss Michaelson and was taken to Bellevue Hospital. Her handbag was found to be quite stuffed with money.

At the hospital the girl said she had a brother, Walter, living at Hilldale, N. Y. The collie was lodged in the hospital stable.

POLICE READY WITH CLUBS AND HOSE
TO FIGHT THE REDS

real furious Red movement should develop, the oil magnate will be able to meet his end of it with an ample force.

Berkman did not seem frightened by the display of hose and clubs. "Threats of bloodshed and ducking do not alarm us," he declared. "We are in a great movement and the Constitution is greater than any village ordinance. It guarantees every man and woman free speech and we mean to have this, if it costs blood and imprisonment and the peace of the Rockefeller."

All kinds of threats have been made to the village authorities. One is that the $60,000 greenhouses of Villaggio President Pearson will be dynamited. Another is the throwing of vitriol and another is that the great slab of stone being rolled to the Rockefeller grounds to be shaped into a fountain will be fractured with dynamite.

Peaceful Tarrytown people have stood about all that law-abiding people may be expected to stand and they are determined that the Anarchists and I. W. W. people will not use their streets for meetings which incite to murder and riot.

A feeling of uneasiness runs through the population of Tarrytown and the natives are ready to repel the threatened invasion. The roads are being watched, and those having no special business in the villages are turned back. All trains from New York are met and firemen are kept ready with the hose to subdue the undisciplined.

Francis J. Lowe, of the Live and Let Live League, made an effort to get a compromise with the village, but it came to nothing. He offered the services of a commission composed of Iner Millholland Hollestein, Amos Pinchot and Attorney Hiram Mann to act on the question of permitting public street meetings. The offer was refused point blank by the village trustees.

The Grand Trunk transaction attempted by Grenfell is considered as one of the most daring stock operations launched here in many years.

The total of the deposits is understood to have been greatly diminished in the past month and the amount outstanding is believed to be about $1,250,000.

Arthur Grenfell recently formed a group for the purchase of a controlling interest in the General Petroleum Company of California, and Earl Grey has been visiting California in connection with the negotiations. Grenfell is retiring from the transaction, which will now be carried through by other members of the group.

THAW CHAUFFEUR KILLED.

Driver of Car in Flight to Canada Victim of Accident.

NORTH STRATFORD, N. H., June 6.—Frank Cantin, the chauffeur who drove Harry K. Thaw in a wild flight from Norton's Mills, Vt., across the State line to Colebrook, N. H., after the Thaw was fugitive had been deported from Canada Sept. 11 last, was instantly killed to-day when an automobile he was operating crashed.

BANK IN LONDON
CLOSES DOORS;
OWES $5,000,000

Earl Grey Reported a Loser in Failure Due to Grand Trunk Speculation.

LONDON, June 6.—Chaplin, Milne, Grenfell & Co., Ltd., merchants and bankers at No. 6 Prince street, suspended to-day. The company was registered in 1899 to take over the business of Morton, Chaplin & Co. (formerly Morton, Ross & Co.). Its authorized capital is $1,750,000.

The firm has had a high reputation and excellent family connections. It conducted general and private banking and a company promoting business. The directors include Ernest Chaplin, G. Grinnell Milne and R. W. Skipwith.

The unsecured liabilities, it is supposed, amount to $5,000,000.

The failure is believed to be the result of large operations in Grand Trunk by Arthur Morton Grenfell, who was formerly a member of the firm and whose dealings recently have been the subject of much gossip. It is said several Canadian and other companies wherein he was interested are involved. Earl Grey, whose daughter was Grenfell's first wife, is reported among the heavy losers.

Powerful banking and other interests have been working for some weeks to re-establish Grenfell's affairs in the interest of the many stockholders of the companies he controlled. The firm recently issued a notice that Grenfell had not been connected therewith since Feb. 17.

The affairs of the bank were largely involved with those of Canadian Agency, Limited, which is controlled by Arthur Grenfell. He and the Canadian Agency had been engaged in a campaign for the purchase of a controlling interest in the Grand Trunk Railway.

The total of the deposits is understood to have been greatly diminished in the past month and the amount outstanding is believed to be about $1,250,000.

SEVENTH CAPTURES
WEST POINT WITH
ARMY OF GUESTS

Sails Up the Hudson Thousand Strong, Band Playing, Flags Flying.

The Seventh Regiment, N. G. W. T., one thousand strong, not to mention the regiment's veterans, resplendent in their old uniforms, sailed up the Hudson to-day to take West Point. They carried 1,500 guests with them, among the number numerous regular army officers with their wives and families, so that there should be a proper audience to the Point's first invasion in history by a fully armed militia regiment.

The Seventh and its veterans are mighty proud of the invitation to West Point, as the honor can be extended only by express permission of the Secretary of War, and no other militia regiment was ever so honored before.

Col. Daniel Appleton and his men boarded the Washington Irving of the Albany Day Line, especially chartered for the occasion, at the pier at One Hundred and Twenty-ninth street and the North River. The regimental band played a quickstep, and the old-timers as well as the youths of the regiment, strode up the gangplanks with snappy steps.

Already there were on board more than 2,000 women in brilliant summer costumes and their escorts, the guests of the regiment. They had boarded the river liner at Forty-second street and they applauded as the regiment marched aboard.

After review there will be a baseball game. At West Point the regiment will give a dress parade and review, and then regulars, guardsmen and veterans of the latter organization will swing out in a united parade across the drill grounds. Then there will be a baseball game between the cadets and a picked team of guardsmen. Former Corporal J. Angus Shaw of Company H, who is one of the most enthusiastic veterans of the Seventh, declared in no uncertain terms that the score of that baseball game would be in favor of the guardsmen—a prediction confidently shared by every veteran and active man in the regiment.

The Seventh will be entertained by a polo game between the cadets and the team of Squadron A. The game was to have been held yesterday, but was postponed because of wet grounds.

From Army Headquarters here came these guests of the Seventh: Col. W. S. Sage, Major William Weigel, Captains G. H. White, H. J. Watson, J. H. Mitchell, D. H. Biddle and W. D. A. Anderson and Lieut. T. L. Crystal; from Fort Totten there were Col. and Mrs. E. H. Rutherford, Capt. and Mrs. E. R. Tilton and Mrs. R. P. Bishop, Capt. and Mrs. G. G. Collins, Capt. and Mrs. C. H. Patterson, Capt. and Mrs. H. L. Steele, Capt. and Mrs. A. G. Cooper, Capt. and Mrs. C. L. Fenton, Capt. and Mrs. M. A. Cross, Lieut. and Mrs. C. G. Mettler, Lieut. and Mrs. W. K. Dunn and Lieut. Stanton; from Governor's Island Col. and Mrs. W. A. Simpson, Col. and Mrs. W. G. Haan, Col. and Mrs. W. G. Maus and party, Col. and Mrs. J. S. Mallory, Capt. J. W. Beacham Jr. and Mrs. Wright, his sister, Capt. and Mrs. G. H. Scott and Captains W. B. Baker, A. H. Hugbush and R. H. Halestead. Gen. Bailey with a party represented the Coast Artillery.

The usual suffrage literature was found about the grounds. The house adjoined the historic parish church which is believed to have been the real objective of the women, who were, however, unable to obtain admittance.

This incendiary fire is considered part of the plan of the militant organization to give the people of England no rest until the Parliamentary vote is granted to women.

Sylvia Pankhurst, borne to the platform on an invalid chair, made her appearance last night at a suffrage meeting in Cannington, and repeated her threat that she would be on the steps of the House of Commons without food or water until Premier Asquith consented to receive a deputation of her followers.

Last night's court in Buckingham Palace, the last of the season, was not disturbed by any suffragette demonstration. No royal garden party, however, will be given this year, though fear that some of the "mad women" might get in.

In consequence of suffragette attacks, churches in many parts of the country are being closed except for Sunday services.

Justice of the Peace Fines Him for Speeding.

REYNOLDSVILLE, Md., June 6.—A ten dollar fine was paid to-day by a White House chauffeur to a justice of the peace for speeding while driving President Wilson's daughters, Miss Margaret Wilson and Mrs. Francis B. Sayre, from Baltimore last Sunday.

The President's daughters were not called as witnesses, the chauffeur making no defense. The incident caused a Presidential order prohibiting speeding by the White House drivers.

SENATE CLEARS WAY FOR CANAL TOLLS VOTE

WASHINGTON, June 6.—By declaring that to-day, legislatively speaking, was still yesterday and, figuratively, turning back the hands of the clock, the Senate to-day prevented any business from obstructing unlimited debate on the Panama tolls exemption bill.

When the Vice-President called the Senate to order at 11 o'clock the floor was given to Senator Cummins to finish the speech he began day before yesterday.

Several Senators declared that no adjournment will be taken until the tolls bill has been passed, which will mean that there will be no business whatever until the vote.

BUZZARD OVER CAPITAL.

WASHINGTON, June 6.—For several hours to-day a large buzzard hovered over the Capitol. Congressmen coming from the House Office building watched it glide through the air and then speculated on the meaning of the "vulture's visit."

Capital employees said it "rooted" on one of the big stone columns of the dome dome last night.

MAIL PLATFORM
IN DEY STREET IS TORN DOWN

Terminal Building Owners Take Action After Complaints to Post-Office Department.

Shortly after noon to-day workmen removed the big steel and concrete platform used by the Post-Office Department in handling mail for the Hudson Terminal Station in Dey street. A gang of men working for Thomas Quinn, a contractor, used pick and axe to such good effect that the platform, which was thirty feet long and seven feet wide, and obstructed half the busy sidewalk, was shaved from the building.

The removal of the platform was the result of a notice to the owners of the building that it would have to be torn away before Tuesday or the Borough President's office would bring about the desired clearance.

Ever since the middle of February, 1912, when Dey street was widened, the city and Government officials have quarreled over the abutment. A dozen or more letters passed between Postmaster-General Burleson and Borough President Marks, but there was no real move made by the Post-office Department to comply with the hints from the borough official that the law forbade the obstruction of sidewalks with platforms.

The actual removal, therefore, is due to the owners themselves, who hired the workmen to chop off the platform rather than have the men of Borough President Marks' department resort to a dramatic attack.

Somewhat ruffled, the men in charge of the Hudson Terminal branch of the post-office nevertheless treated lightly the demolishing of the platform and said that it would make no difference in the mail removal.
